YOUR CARPET AND THE BOISE RIVER

The leftover water from cleaning carpets is filled with all sorts of nasty stuff like dirt, pet dander, flea bombs, hazardous chemicals and carpet fibers.

Surprisingly, some companies let this swill flow into neighborhood streets where it runs into storm drains which go straight to the Boise River.

CLEAN WATER BUSINESS

The carpet cleaner working for you today will dispose of the cleaning water responsibly by taking it to one of the City's wastewater treatment plants, or by putting it into toilets, sinks, or tubs, or into lawns and gardens to infiltrate naturally into the ground.

That's why this company has been recognized as a Business Partner for Clean Water.
